Miss the Mississippi and You
By: Bill Halley, first recorded by Jimmie Rodgers
Recorded by Bob Dylan, Early/Mid June 1992 (according to Olof Björner)

Dylan's version

Capo 3rd fret

```
G           E7              Am
I'm growing tired of these big city nights
D                         G
Tired of the glamour and tired of the sights
C                      G           E(7)
In all my dreams, I am roving once more
A                      D
Back to my home on the old river shore
```

```
  G             E
|-------------|--------
 |-------------|--------
|-4---3---2---|-1------
 |-5---4---3---|-2------
|-------------|--------
 |-------------|--------
```

```
Bridge:
G
I am sad and weary,
C             Cm
far away from home
G               D        G    D
Miss the Mississippi and you, dear.
G
Nights are dark and dreary
C            Cm
Everywhere I roam
G               D        G
Miss the Mississippi and you.

Bridge2:
C                       G
Rolling this wide world over
A                 D
Always alone and blue, blue
G
Nothing seems to cheer me
C               Cm
Under heaven's dome
G               D        G
Miss the Mississippi and you

C . . | . . . | G . . | . . . |
G . . | D . . | G . . | . . . |

Bridge:
Memories are bringing happy days of yore
Missing Mississippi and you
Mockingbirds are singing
around the cabin door
Miss the Mississippi and you

Bridge2:
Rolling this wide world over
Always alone and blue, so blue
Longing for my homeland
Muddy water shore
Miss the Mississippi and you

G . . | . . . | C . . |Cm . . |
G . . | D . . | G            ||
```