

Bluegrass Songs - Lyrics

Here today and gone tomorrow

Here today and gone tomorrow
Our love would always be a hidden love affair
I know you love me but you're just a wandering
Today I love you but tomorrow I may not care

For absence never makes the heart grow fonder
I get lonesome for some one's company
Here today and gone tomorrow
And my loving you is just fantasy

When you're gone I wished we'd never met
For your memory remains within my heart
Here today and gone tomorrow
We can't be happy so I think it's best we part

* Refrain
