

Bluegrass Songs - Lyrics
www.traditionalmusic.co.uk

How lonely can you get

Have you ever been so lonely so blue you could die
When the one you love no longer cares for you
When your trouble mind keeps bothering you won't leave you alone
When you know it's all over love's grown cold

How lonely, oh, how lonely how lonely can you get I'd give this wide world over If we had never met
I wouldn't have these lonely night days of sad regret Don't mind being lonely but how lonely can you get

I've tried to tell me my trouble mind to live and just forget
But I don't find that so easy and never will, I guess
I'm locked up in a dream world with dreams and loneliness
And every day I ask myself how lonely can you get

* Refrain