I've got bluegrass on my mind

I've got bluegrass on my mind, heading back to old Kentucky
Where the mountains look so pretty in the spring
When the dew is on the bluegrass sparkling with the sun's good morning
I've got good old bluegrass on my mind again

Let me hear the fox hounds running
High at night among the nountains
And then later when the fox horn blows them in
Let me hear the roosters crowing
Smell the ham and bacon frying
I've got good old bluegrass on my mind again

In a little cabin home where your neighbor was your neibor
And the bluegrass started growing every spring
There we danced on Saturday night to fiddle and a banjo
I've got old bluegrass on my mind again
