Just another day

Just another day, how can I stand it
Without my baby by my side
This empty feeling now inside me
Is bound to show, but I can't cry

Just make mine straight without a chaser
And let me drown my blues this way
The seat eside me now is empty
Nothing to live for just another day

A thief could rob and take my money
If death was pending I could pray
I'm helpless now, what can my fate be
Everything is gone, just another day
