

Bluegrass Songs - Lyrics
www.traditionalmusic.co.uk

Where there's smoke there's fire

Oh, the ashes of a love affair left somking
Leaves my aching heart still burning with desire
I'll keep trying now the ashes to rekindle
It'd been told to me where there is smoke there's fire

Once the fires of love within our hearts were raging
Then I slowly watched the flames of love retire
But I see a spark of love among the embers
I'll rebuild for where there is smoke there's fire

If I wait too long the sparks will die in hunger
Of a love that can make them burn with desire
If cherish them with love as I remember
That will burn again for where there's smoke there's fire

* Refrain