

You're Not Broken
Gene Parsons/Meridian Green

You've got bets on every number
The wheel is set to spin
You still won't let the game get started
You'll never lose but you'll never win
No you're not broken no you're not broken
You're only stumbling around
No you're not broken no you're not broken
You're only hurting and proud
Climbing down mountains you made out of molehills
Down to the chasm below
Till you cop to the fact that you're hurting
You'll never cry but you'll never know
No you're not broken no you're not broken
You're only stumbling around
No you're not broken no you're not broken
You're only hurting and proud
Count dancing angels on the head of a pin
Never asking why
Answers before you, you cannot see
You're blind with tears in your eyes
No you're not broken no you're not broken
You're only stumbling around
No you're not broken no you're not broken
You're only hurting and proud