

Mistaken Eternity
by Donovan

There must have been a mistake here
Misinterpretation, I fear
There's surely been a mistake here

I thought I was where I was not
I was cold and I thought I was hot
Thought I'd nothing when I had a lot

You can call headquarters on the telephone
They will substantiate that I was at home, yeah

There must have been a mistake here
No coordination, I fear
There must have been a mistake here

It's really quite disturbing me
When the dream is really dreaming me
It's a case of mistaken eternity

You can call the Madam on the telephone
She will tell you I was with the girls all night long, yeah

There must have been a mistake here
Misinterpretation, I fear
There have must been a mistake here

Thought I was where I was not
Thought I'd nothing when I had a lot
I was cold and I thought I was hot
