

NEVER AGAIN - ELVIS PRESLEY

(Words and music by Billy Edd Wheeler - Jerry Chesnut)

I hope I never ever love anyone this much again
I can't take it anymore, Ive been hurt before
Never ever quite like this time

What will become of me when you're no longer here
If I can't stop loving you, what am I to do
You'll be free but where will I be

Now that Im used to love, how can I stand alone
Now that love has come and gone, like the ending of a song
A song my lonely heart keeps singing

Where do I go from here, will I get over you
If so, next time Ill be smart, Ill know before I start
A heart that don't care, don't get broken

I hope I never ever love anyone this much again
Never ever, never again
Never again
