Two Different Worlds

Two Different Worlds

Now we live in two different worlds, dear
That's why we're so far apart
You built a world out of vows that were broken
I built a world in my heart

Everyone here tried to tell me
That you were playing a game
I told them all we were meant for each other
I thought our worlds were the same

But we live in two different worlds, dear
That's why we're so far apart
You built a world out of vows that were broken
I built a world in my heart

When you get lonely in your world
Oh, how my poor heart will pine
Darling, someday when your memories wander
Won't you come over to mine

Now we live in two different worlds, dear
My world is honest and true
When you get lonely in your world
I'll still be here, waiting for you
