Pardon Me-1939

Regal Zonophone MR3160 Formby/Frame/Nicholson

Pardon Me I think we've met before, that's what all the young men say,
Won't you come out for a walk with me today.

Pardon Me I'd like to hold your hand like the movie fellas do
I'd be proud to let folks see me out with you

I know that I'm no four leaf clover and moreover
I'm no Casanova, but I like you just the same

Pardon Me I don't mean to offend, indiscreet though I may
And I hope the likes of you will Pardon Me.

Pardon Me I think I've dropped a plate, that's a foolish thing to do
But I'm glad I introduced myself to you.

Pardon Me if I should criticise, but you really can't deny
There's a fascinating twinkle in your eye.

I know that I'm no four leaf clover and more-over
I'm no Casanova, but I like you just the same.

Pardon Me I feel a great big chump, as goofy as can be
If I look like that to you then Pardon Me.

Pardon Me I know what's on your mind but you don't know what's on mine
And before you do I think I'll draw the line.

Pardon Me it's true I never knew such a captivating smile
For a smile from you I'd gladly run a mile.

I know that I'm no four leaf clover and moreover
I'm no Casanova, but I like you just the same.

Pardon Me it's turned out nice again, you're as busy as a bee
And if I get busy too, then Pardon Me
