Two Shoes
Old Gospel Song

1. It was at a little front porch sale she stopped to look around.
She saw those two shoes, Sunday slippers, a bargain to be found.
But her husband did not know the Lord, so what good were they to him?
But God said, "Just believe, you will receive", so she took Him at His word.

2. Now time passed on, and she wondered if, she'd ever see the day
He'd wear those two shoes, Sunday slippers, and to the church house make his way.
Then it happened on one Sunday morn, as she started out the door
He said, "Wait for me," she turned to see those two shoes walking cross the floor.

CHORUS:
And there were two shoes, a prayer, and a promise God would keep
To save the soul of the one who wore those two shoes on his feet.
She held them as she prayed each day, as the tears ran down her cheeks.
There were two shoes, a prayer and a promise God would keep.

BREAK:
Now the preacher spoke of Calvary, of the old rugged cross
Of how Jesus came and He gave His life to save all the lost.
When He gave the invitation, he saw what brought a smile,
He saw those two shoes, Sunday slippers, come-a walking down the aisle.

CHORUS:
And there were two shoes, a prayer, and a promise God kept so sweet,
To save the soul of the one who wore those two shoes on his feet.
He wore them as he prayed that day, while the tears ran down his face,
There were two shoes, a prayer, and, a sinner saved by grace.

Repeat: last chorus
