

Far from God, Away from Jesus
Robert Harkness, ca. 1913.

Far from God, away from Jesus,
Straying in the paths of sin,
Knowing not God's full salvation,
Jesus calls you midst earth's din.

Refrain

Come, 'tis Jesus calls you;
Come, without delay.
He is willing now to save you;
Come, O come today.

Why continue in your roaming?
Jesus bids you come today.
Mercy's offer still is open;
Why not come without delay?

Refrain

How much longer will you tarry?
How much longer will you roam?
Listen, Jesus calls you to Him;
Will you not at once come home?

Refrain

Can you stay away from Jesus
With eternity in view?
Can you still reject His mercy
When you hear His call so true?

Refrain

You may almost come to Jesus,
But "almost" will never save;
For the soul that "fully" trusts Him
On the cross His life He gave.
