

He Has Come!
Millie Lawhead, 1901.
Versa Hyman.

He has come, the Holy Spirit,
To my longing, waiting heart;
He has come, and like a fountain,
Joy and gladness upward start.

Refrain

He has come, He has come,
He has come, my Holy Guest;
He has come with all His fullness,
Come to reign within my breast.

Often would He hover o'er me,
Waiting me to let Him in;
Sweetest words of promise whisper:
"I will cleanse you from all sin."

Refrain

Then I bade Him search the temple,
And reveal to me my need;
Now at last He makes me holy
He is dwelling there indeed.

Refrain

Like the dew, O so refreshing,
Yet so gently He has come,
And He fills me with His presence,
Makes my heart His blessed home.

Refrain

O the matchless condescension!
For the triune God in me
Deigns to live and bless forever;
Wondrous glory! Can it be?

Refrain

He has come, O hallelujah!
Joyful bells of Heaven ring,
Fill the earth with sweetest music,
Every soul awake and sing.
