

Live a Life of Sunshine
Harry Crossley, 1897.
Alfred Goodsell.

All our life is joyous, all the way is bright,
For the Savior's presence banishes the night;
Sin has no abiding, sorrow takes its flight,
When we live a life of sunshine.

Refrain

Gladness and joy fill all my soul,
When I hear the Master say:
"My peace I give,"
That makes it sunshine all the way.

Stormy clouds may gather, wild the tempest blow,
But within, my soul with light is all aglow;
Happiness and peace thro' every heart will flow,
If we live a life of sunshine.

Refrain

When the sunshine enters, darkness flees away;
Doubts and fears are scattered by its cheering ray;
All along, the path grows brighter every day,
When we live a life of sunshine.
