

Make a Start for Heaven Now
Susie Matthews, 1900.
Frank Lehman.

Brother, heed the warning cry,
O'er and o'er repeating,
Death and woe are drawing nigh
As your pulse is beating.

Refrain

Brother, make a start for Heaven now;
Hear the invitation given now;
Tomorrow may be never,
And woe your portion ever!
Brother, make a start for Heaven now!
Just now, just now.

Brother can you heedless hear,
How the Savior suffered?
How that groans and blood and tears
Bought the pardon offered?

Refrain

Life you feel in every vein,
Think you death's retreating?
You forget that grain by grain
Life and time are fleeting.
