

No One Loves You So

Alfred Barratt, 1919.

Henry Morton.

Are the burdens you carry too heavy to bear?
Does the weight of your sin fill your heart with despair?
Go to Jesus for aid, He will answer your prayer;
There is no one who loves you so.

Refrain

There is no one who loves you like Jesus,
No one who loves you so;
For the cross you lay down
He will give you a crown;
There is no one who loves you so.

Do you think in your sorrow you suffer alone?
All your grief and your sadness to Him are made known;
He hath never forsaken or turned from His own;
There is no one who loves you so.

Refrain

He alone can redeem you from darkness and woe;
He will wash all your sins till they're white as the snow,
And His wonderful grace you may constantly know;
There is no one who loves you so.

Refrain