

Nobody Knows but Jesus
Frances Havergal, 1878.
Jackson Leslie, 1917.

Nobody knows but Jesus:
'Tis but an old refrain;
But it is new to my heart,
Now as it comes again.

Refrain

Nobody knows but Jesus:
Is it not better so,
That no one else but Jesus,
My own dear Lord, shall know?

Nobody knows but Jesus:
'Tis music for today,
And thro' the hardest trials
Helps me along the way.

Refrain

Burdens might be so heavy
That dear ones could not bear
To know the bitter heartaches,
They could not come and share.

Refrain

Nobody knows but Jesus:
My Lord, I bless Thee now
For the great gift of sorrow,
That no one knows but Thou.
