

Onward to Battle
Hannah Thurston, 1915.
Charles Espenshade.

Onward to battle,
A loyal band of soldiers we;
O'er wrong and evil
We'll win the victory!

Refrain

Onward, then, nor falter in the conflict,
Haste away, the call obey;
Tho' evil's mighty host encamp against us,
They cannot prevail;
Onward, then, our captain true is leading,
Forward go to meet the foe;
Despite his boast, we'll conquer Satan's host;
We can never, never fail.

Christ is our captain,
A leader strong and true is He;
He leads to triumph
Tho' fierce the strife may be.

Refrain

Long tho' the conflict,
We ne'er shall give the battle o'er;
Till Christ in triumph
Shall reign from shore to shore.
