

Shines Our Morning Star

Lizzie DeArmond, 1907.

W. A. Post.

Shines the blessed sunlight, Easter morning breaks;
Unto life and gladness all the world awakes;
Now has come salvation, ever full and free,
Christ our Lord has purchased blessed liberty.

Refrain

Praise Him, from the grave!
Praise Him, strong to save!
Songs of gladness raise,
Everlasting praise.

Carol forth His praises, twine your garlands gay;
See, the tomb of darkness gleams with Heaven's ray;
Tell the sweetest message known to mortal men,
Jesus, King and Savior, lives and reigns again.

Refrain

Glow the blessed sunlight in our hearts today,
Rolling clouds of sorrow from our souls away;
Gleaming out with beauty thro' the skies afar,
Shines anew the risen Christ, our Morning Star.
