

What Is the Message

Emma Pitt, 1890.

Charles Pollock.

What is the message that comes with the morning?

"Peace be on earth, and good will toward men."

Happy the tidings, how happy the tidings!

Sing the sweet message, repeat it again.

Refrain

Sing the sweet message that comes with the morning,

"Peace be on earth, and good will toward men."

Great is the chorus, the wonderful chorus,

Singing in Heaven the happy refrain.

Refrain

Joy to the world on this bright festal season;

Joy to the world, the Redeemer has come;

Sing out His praises in glad hallelujahs,

Glory to God, our Redeemer has come!

Refrain

Yonder in Beth'lem, the land of Judea,

Humble and lowly the Savior was laid.

Greet Him in triumph, O greet Him in triumph!

Dwelling with angels in glory arrayed.
