

Blest and Happy Is the Man-Psalm 1

1. Blest and happy is the man who does never walk astray, Nor with the ungodly men stands in sinners' way.

Chorus:

All he does prospers well, but the wicked are not so; They are chaff before the wind, driven to and fro.

2. Ne'er in scorner's chair he sits, for he places his delight In God's law and meditates on it day and night.

Chorus:

All he does prospers well, but the wicked are not so; They are chaff before the wind, driven to and fro.

3. He shall be a tree that grows, planted by the river's side, Which in season yields its fruit; green its leaves abide.

Chorus:

All he does prospers well, but the wicked are not so; They are chaff before the wind, driven to and fro.
