

EVERY FOOL HAS A RAINBOW

Every fool has rainbow
But he never seems to find
The reward that should be waiting
At the end of the line
But he'll give up a bed of roses
For a hammock filled with thorns
And go chasing after rainbows
Every time a dream is born

And every fool has a rainbow that only he can see
Every fool has a rainbow and the rule applies to me

Instrumental Break

And every fool has a rainbow that only he can see
Every fool has a rainbow and the rule applies to me
