

WHEN DID RIGHT BECOME WRONG

It used to be right that you loved me. you said so, and I thought so too. We talked maturly bout old puppy love. Comparing the old, with the new. If it's so right we love each other, than why had you rather be gone. You seem to take pride in deceiving. And when did right become wrong, when did right become wrong.

You made a good talk about romance. You said, "you just know it when it's real." You sealed your oration with kisses of fire. Oh darling were they really real? If it's so right that I hold you. Then why have I not in so long. for you know I can't even touch you. so when did right become wrong, when did right become wrong?
