----- Oh I Marched..
-----

oh i marched to the battle of new orleans at the end of the early british war a young land started growing, a young blood started flowing but i ain't a marching anymore for i killed my share of indians in a thousand different fights i was there at the little big horn i heard many men lying i saw many more dying and i ain't a marching anymore it's always the old who lead us to the war it's always the young who fall look at all we've won with the sabre and the gun tell me, was it worth it all?

for i stole california from the mexican lands and i fought in the bloody civil war. yes i even killed my brothers and so many others so i ain't a marching anymore for i marched to the battles of the german trench in a war that was bound to end all wars and i must have killed a million men and now they want me back again but i ain't a marching anymore.

for i flew the final mission in the japanese skies and i set off the mighty mushroom roar when i saw their cities burning, i knew that i was learning that i ain't a marching anymore now the labour leader's screaming when they close the missile plants united fruit screams at the cuban shore call it peace or call it treason, call it love or call it reason.

but i ain't a marching anymore.
