

The Ballad Of Alferd Packer
By Phil Ochs

The Indian chief knew how he lied,
He spat upon the ground,
For Packer's belly hung out all over his belt:
He'd gained some thirty pounds.