

There's a Bright Way to Freedom

By:Herbert Tulin

Music by Chauncey Olcott and Ernest R. Ball

There's a bright way to Freedom all toilers may learn;
Their own right to secure them in doing their turn;
There's a way out of bondage; there's a way open still;
Where no master can lead us our One Union will.

That a bright day is dawning all labor shall know;
When we learn our power, our might then shall show;
That in standing united we'll make this world free:
Our dream through the ages of true Liberty.

No more wage slavery: to a dark day, goodbye;
Then a world of toilers will a tyrant defy;
As a bright star to help us and guide us aright,
Our banner unfurled will make way for the light.

That a bright day is dawning all labor shall know;
When we learn our power, our might then shall show;
That in standing united we'll make this world free:
Our dream through the ages of true Liberty.
