

She's Turning 50 Today

Intro: G

G

Her husband left on Saturday for a woman that was half her age

Cadd9

Sunday she just stayed in bed with the covers pulled over her head

G

But on Monday morning she woke up and loaded up her pick-up truck.

Cadd9

Took one last look at her old life then hit the gas, and said goodbye

Am

C

in her faded jeans and her old baseball cap.

Am

D

All she knows for sure, she ain't comin back.

G

Em7

This isn't how she thought, she'd ever spend this day

Cadd9

D

G

sitting behind the wheel, on the interstate.

G

Em7

40 was quite alright, but she's changing roads tonight.

Cadd9

D

Am

and it's such a bittersweet way to celebrate.

C (no chord)

G

She's turning 50 today.

G

She left that Oklahoma town, the only world she had know till now,

Cadd9

And memories of those 20 years

G

Am

She watched them in her rear-view mirror fade away

C

oh, but thats all right

Am

D

Yeah, this could be the time of her life.

G

Em7

This isn't how she thought, she'd ever spend this day

Cadd9

D

G

sitting behind the wheel, on the interstate.

G

Em7

40 was quite alright, but she's changing roads tonight.

Cadd9

D

Am

and it's such a bittersweet way to celebrate.

C (no chord)

G

She's turning 50 today.

G

Oh, her windows are down.

Em7

And the wind blows her hair

Cadd9

D

Where she goes, could be anywhere.

Solo: G / Em7 / Cadd9 / D / G

G

Em7

40 was quite alright, but she's changing roads tonight

Cadd9

D

Em7

tomorrow's a mystery oh, and she can't wait.

Cadd9

D

She's turning 50,

Em7

Cadd9

She's turning 50,

Cadd9

D (no chord)

G

She's turning 50 today.