

Behold the Eastertide is here

Behold, the Eastertide is here,
With Easter joy and bloom:
Behold, the stone is rolled away,
To show a conquered tomb.

Jesus is risen, as He said
Risen in triumph from the grave!
Rejoice and sing on this Eastertide
Jesus is risen, mighty to save.

Behold, the vestures of the dead,
All folded back with care:
Behold, the dark and vacant tomb
For Jesus is not there.

Jesus is risen, as He said
Risen in triumph from the grave!
Rejoice and sing on this Eastertide
Jesus is risen, mighty to save.

Behold, He walks the earth again,
Exalted in His love:
Behold, the glory on His brow,
Reflected from above.

Jesus is risen, as He said
Risen in triumph from the grave!
Rejoice and sing on this Eastertide
Jesus is risen, mighty to save.

Behold, the Easter-tide is here,
With Easter song and word:
Behold, amid these Easter gifts,
The triumph of the Lord.

Jesus is risen, as He said
Risen in triumph from the grave!
Rejoice and sing on this Eastertide
Jesus is risen, mighty to save.
