Analization

Analizationintro (recitative):

What are mortals made of?

By analization I've tried all the nation

Defined each gradation

In every station

With Sir Humphry's best new chemical test

And found what mortals are made of. What are lawyers made of?

Of causes and fees

Demurrers and pleas,

Learned brother and lots of pother

Counsel and jury with very wise looks

Flaw in the indictment and statute books

Such are our lawyers made of,

Such are our lawyers made of,

What are our old maids made of?

What are our old maids made of?

Of thrown away sighs, and crows' feet eyes,

Of sprigs of rue and vinegar too,

Parchment skin and faltering walk,

Chit chat and slander to talk;

And such are our old maids made of,

And such are our old maids made of.

What are old bachelores made of?

What are old bachelores made of?

Of bread and cheese and very weak knees,

Of snivelling nose and rheumatic toes.

Domestic comtort they say is all strife,

But yet in their hearts they all long for a wife

And such are old bachelores made of,

And such are old bachelores made of.

What are New Yorkers made of?

What are New Yorkers made of?

Of State House in Park, Broadway in the dark

Of ladies who flash and cut such a dash

The home of the stranger, delight of the brave

Lots of frolic and fashion and brokers that shave.

And such are New Yorkers made of,

And such are New Yorkers made of.

What are Philadelphians made of?

What are Philadelphians made of?

Of dandies and Quakers and Germans and Shakers

Of fine Schuylkill coal and shad by the shoal.

At the mint they make money, Oh lawks, what a pile

And the market it reaches for nearly a mile,

And such are Philadelphians made of,

And such are Philadelphians made of.

A stage number, ca 1830s. Sir Humphry was Sir Humphry Davies, inventor of the miner's safety lamp.
