

Cast One Little Thought For Me - song lyrics

American Old-time song lyrics from www.traditionalmusic.co.uk

Cast One Little Thought for Me.
Copyright, 1878, by W. L. Thompson & Co.

Ere I leave you, little darling,
I would beg a boon of thee;
Will you in your lonely hours,
Cast one little thought for me?
When the night-shades 'round you gather,
I will then be far from thee;
Parted, oh, perhaps for ever,
Will you cast one thought for me?

Chorus.
Little darling, will you promise,
Promise only this to me, my darling,
When the night-shades 'round you gather,
Cast one little thought for me.

Little darling, though I wander,
Tossed upon life's stormy sea,
Love's pure light will shine for ever,
If you'll cast one thought for me.
Fare thee well, my little darling,
Life is full of joy to me,
For I'll know your heart is faithful,
If you'll cast one thought for me.-Chorus.