

Oh, Moses, Ain't It Cold - song lyrics

American Old-time song lyrics from www.traditionalmusic.co.uk

OH, MOSES, AIN'T IT COLD?

Copyright, 1887, by Henry Morse.

I'm a dandy coon and I live up North-

Oh, Moses, ain't it cold?

I have got a darling wife, and I'm happy as a lord-

Oh, Moses, ain't it cold?

We have got a little babe, and it just begins to talk-

Oh, Moses, ain't it cold?

You ought to see the babe, it's just begun to walk-

Oh, Moses, ain't it cold?

Chorus.

Now you must call and see us all.

Great, young, and old;

Don't forget to bring your provisions along-

Oh, Moses, ain't it cold?

My wife and I have wings and fly-

Oh, Moses, ain't it cold?

"We are going to heaven when we die-

Oh, Moses, ain't it cold?

We will sing that song, "In the Sweet Bye-and-Bye" -

Oh, Moses, ain't it cold?

We will meet them angels way up on high-

Oh, Moses, ain't it cold?-Chorus

Now, young folks all, don't be doing wrong-

Oh, Moses, ain't it cold?

For you know that Moses is looking right on-

Oh, Moses, ain't it cold?

For you can't remain on this earth very long-

Oh, Moses, ain't it cold?

For old Gabriel is coming down to blow his horn-

Oh, Moses, ain't it cold?-Chorus.