American Old-time song lyrics from www.traditionalmusic.co.uk

DRIFTING- AWAY.

Words by Dexter Smith. Music by Geo. Dana.

Drifting away, drifting away,
Upon life's changeful ocean;
"With peace and sunshine sweet to-day,
To-morrow wild commotion;
Drifting, drifting, drifting away,
Drifting, drifting, drifting away.

Drifting away, drifting away,
Each hour the shore receding;
While on the beach the breakers play,
No mortal sorrows heeding;
Drifting, drifting, drifting away,
Drifting, drifting, drifting away.

Drifting away, drifting away,
While love and friendship cheer us;
And hope's bright flowers will ne'er decay,
For God is ever near us;
Drifting, drifting, drifting away,
Drifting, drifting, drifting away.
