

When You Know The Girl You Love Loves You - song lyrics

American Old-time song lyrics from www.traditionalmusic.co.uk

WHEN YOU KNOW THE GIRL YOU LOVE LOVES YOU.

Copyright, 1894, by Spaulding & Gray.

By W. B. Gray & G. L. Spaulding.

You will find this world a pleasure, if the girl you love, loves you,
You will find this world a world of joy and bliss,
Every evening when at leisure, if your love for her is true,
You will meet her and will greet her with a kiss.
As you wander side by side, with your happy promised bride,
With nothing but your wedding day in view,
All is joy and comfort then, what a blessing life is when
You know the girl you love, loves you.

Refrain.

When you know the girl you love, loves you,
If to her you're faithful, kind and true,
Not a single act you'll rue, you'll have peace and comfort, too,
When you know the girl you love, loves you.

All her secrets she will tell you, if the girl you love, loves you,
And her every little triumph you will praise,
For her frankness will compel you, if your love for her is true,
To admire her winsome, charming, pleasant ways.
Then as time rolls quickly on, and perhaps a year has gone,
You've tried her love, and found it staunch find true,
You will make of her your wife, you'll be happy all through life,
You know the girl you love, loves you.-Refrain.