LINDY, DOES YOU LOVE ME?

Copyright, 1894, by Brooks & Denton.

Words by Dan W. Quinn. Music by J. A. Silberberg.

Oh, Lindy, dis is what I want to know:
Does you still love me!
For if you do, we'll go and see de show,
Yes, gal, hustle on.
There's gwine to be a lively time to-night,
Um, um, believe me;
We'll show dem other colored people there
That you and me are out ob sight, oh!

Chorus.

Lindy, now does you love me? Lindy, jess come and hug me;
Don't you see I'm wild with joy.
Lord knows I love you dearly, goodness, don't you see it clearly,
I'se your honey boy.

Oh, Lindy, don't you monkey wid a coon,
If you does love me;
For sure's you born, dar's blood on de moon,
Yes, gal, hustle on.
Oh, get right In and cut de pigeon wing,
I'm, um, you hear me;
Den we'll all join hands and every one will sing,
What a glorious time we'll have, oh!-Chorus.
