

I sold my heart to the junkman
(Rene, Rene) by The Silhouettes (Ace 552), 1958

...song, this is a very sad song, this next song were gonna do.

The song is so sad that sometimes I have to leave the stage and cry in the backstage a little bit while Im singing this song.

The reason this song is so sad because this story happened to me just a little while ago (not true, but true) (audience laughs)

And it was, it was a thing where I met this this beautiful girl, right? was she a beautiful girl as she was, she was nice and ... and I gave her my whole heart, every every bit, and she gave it back to me a month later all beat up, so bad and so terrible looking that

I Sold My Heart To The Junkman !

Now I can never fall in love again....

Well I gave my heart to you, open, so open and trusting
And you gave it back to me, it was broken up and busting
(sold my heart) I sold my heart to the junkman
(sold my heart) I sold my heart to the junkman

I can never fall in love again

Oh and I know you took my heart, you thought that you could use it

When you gave it back like a toy you broken and bruised

(sold my heart) I sold my heart to the junkman
(I sold my heart) I sold my heart to the junkman
I can never fall in love again

Now, it was a movie sad scene, I played my part

Ooh I wanted the happy ending, but all I got was a broken heart (all he got was a broken heart)

(I sold my heart) I sold my heart to the junkman(I sold my heart) I sold my heart to the junkman

I can never fall in love again

Now I swear it was a movie setting, baby I played my part

And all I wanted was a happy ending, but now Im left with a broken heart (now hes left with a broken heart)

(I sold my heart) I sold my heart to the junkman

(I sold my heart) I sold my heart to the junkman

I can never fall in love again

I gave my heart to you, so open and trusting

And you gave it back to me, it was broken up and busting

(so I sold) I sold my heart to the junkman

(yes I sold) I sold my heart to the junkman

I can never fall in love again

Yes I did sold my heart to the junkman, yes I did, yes I did

Sold my heart to the junkman

Now I can never fall in love again

Since I sold my heart to the junkman.
