Are you waiting just for me

While I'm writing you tonight my darlin'
There's such a burning deep within my breast
I know you promised that you would be faithful
Well tell me honey have you stood the test

Are you waiting just for me my darling
While I'm far across the deep blue sea
Or have you found someone else my darling
Please tell me are you waiting just for me

Of course I know I should not ever doubt you
For you have always been so true and kind
But somehow I just can't sleep at night dear
For thinking of a new love you might find

* Refrain

Or maybe it is just the way I'm feeling
That makes me write this letter to you dear
But somehow I just can't sleep at night dear
For losing you love is my greatest fear

* Refrain
