Better luck next time

So your of love has finally reached its ending
The winner smiles as you are left behind
You will taste the better cup of love's illusion
Just chalk one up and better luck next time

Better luck next time for now you're reaping
All the bitterness that once was mine
Live and love then learn the fate that's pending
A broken heart but better luck next time

There's no way that we can look into the future
Sut a lesson we may learn from scenes behind
In the future there's a promise of tomorrow
If given you then better luck next time
