

Bluegrass Songs - Lyrics
www.traditionalmusic.co.uk

I cried again

Teardrops fell the night you said
I love you dear and you were wed
I watched you while you held her hand
I turned away and cried again

I cried again when I reached home
There set your picture all alone
I thought of things that might have been
I bowed my head and cried again

I took your letters from the shelf
And read aloud just to myself
And just before I reached the end
I bowed my head and cried again

* Refrain

I thought of love I'd been denied
And how to hold it I had tried
And of dreams that we had shared
And days gone by when you had cared

* Refrain

And here's the reason why I say

I must throw your things away
For they would always bring me pain
And then I'd only cry again

* Refrain