

Not Fade Away-Rolling Stones

Not Fade Away - Rolling Stones

Written by Norman Petty, Charles Hardin and Buddy Holly Performed by Bob Dylan regularly in 1999-2000 and a few times before and after that

Tabbed by Eyolf strem

Buddy Holly played this song with the basic rhythm:

E           A           E E
:   .   .   .   :   .   .   .
   ba       ba       ba ba

When The Rolling Stones covered the song, they changed the rhythm into the Bo Diddley Beat and moved the chord changes:

E           A E
v   v   v   :   v   v
:   .   .   .   :   .   .   .

This has become the standard version of the song, which Dylan follows. Early on he played it rather straightforwardly in the Stones Tradition (see 1997 version below), but since 1999 he and the band have worked out their own distinctive version, to which they have remained faithful.
 The transcription below follows the version from Oslo,
 May 19, 2000, with a side-glance at Vienna, April 30, 1999.

Capo 1st fret (sounding key G major) (this may seem awkward, but it is necessary to get the 0h2 hammer-on on the sixth string)

My love's bigger than a Cadillac
 I try to show you but you drive me back
 My love for you has gotta be real Want you to know just how I feel
 Love and love and not fade away
 Love to love and not fade away

[interlude]

I'm gonna tell you how it's gonna be You're gonna give your love to me
 I'm gonna love you night and day you know my love not fade away
 Love and love and not fade away

[got] my love and not fade away
 Love and love and not fade away

My love's bigger than a Cadillac
I try to show you but you drive me back
Love and and love, and it will pass one day
Know my love and not fade away
Love and love and not fade away
not fade away
not fade away
not fade away
not fade away
You know my love and not fade away
