

Polk Salad Annie

(verse 1)

E
Down in Louisiana,
E
Where the alligators grow so mean,
E
Lived a girl that I swear to the world,
E
Made the alligators look tame,

(chorus)

A
Polk salad Annie,
E
'Gators got your granny,
G A
Everybody said it was a shame,
G A E
For the mama was working on the chain gang,
E
What a mean, vicious woman,

(verse 2)

E
Everyday before suppertime,
E
She'd go down by the truck patch,
E
And pick her a mess of Polk salad,
E
And carry it home in a tote sack,

(chorus)

A
Polk salad Annie,
E
'Gators got you granny,
G A
Everybody said it was a shame,
G A E
'Cause the mama was working on the chain gang,
E
Whoo, how wretched, dispitiful, straight-razor totin woman,
E
Lord have mercy,

(bridge)

E
Sock a little Polk salad to him,
E
Yeah, you know what, yeah, yeah,

(verse 3)

E
But daddy was a lazy and a no count,
E
Claimed he had a bad back,
E
All her brothers were fit for,

E
Was stealing watermelons out of my truck,

(chorus)

For once Polk salad Annie, A
 'Gators got your granny, E
 Everybody said it was a shame, G A
 For the mama was working on the chain-gang, G A E
 Sock a little Polk salad to him, E
 You know what meets a meal mention, E
 You sock a little, E
 Hey, hey, hey, yeah, yeah, E
 Chic a bon, chic a bon, chic a bon bon bon bon, E
 Chic a bon, chic a bon, chic a bon bon bon bon, E
 Sock a little Polk salad to him, E
 You know what meets a meal mention, E
 Sock a little Polk salad to him, E
 You know what meets a meal mention, E
 Chinc, chinc, chinc, chin, ling, ling ling,
