

We Will Sing the Old, Old Story

Words: Fanny Crosby, 1900. Music: William Kirkpatrick, 1902.

We will sing the old, old story,
Though you ask for something new;
'Tis our passport home to glory;
Jesus died for me and you.

Refrain

Yes, we'll sing the old, old story,
Ever old and ever new,
How the Lord of life and glory
Came to save both me and you.

We will sing His grand salvation,
Sing of Christ and Him alone,
'Till in every clime and nation
His beloved name is known.

Refrain

Yes, we'll sing the old, old story
O'er and o'er the song repeat,
Till we see the King in glory,
Kneeling at His blessed feet.
