

Folk & Traditional Song Lyrics

www.traditionalmusic.co.uk

Business for Love

Business for Love

Sin and corruption are known to Tim Finister
Guilt and abasement and other things sinister
Buy your salvation from him, he's a minister:
--he sells his soul for Love

cho: Give him matronly fawning and insincere kisses
His mother has spoiled him and so has his missus;
He likes to be worshipped, he's such a Narcissus,
And he's in the business for love
In the business for love

Honest John States, man, who sets hearts aquiver
Is forthright with promises he can't deliver.
Now that he's President, oh how I shiver
For he's in the business for love

(CHORUS)

The actor and actress are charming and witty
And equally glued to the Great Public Titty
It's better, I guess, than indulge in self-pity, and they're in the business for love.

(CHORUS)

So the actor and priest and the statesman score zero
Like Hitler and Nixon and Franco and Nero
'Cause each had his start as his Mommy's own hero
And they're in the business for Love.

(CHORUS)

They'll do it, they'll do it, for love and for power,
They'll do it for minutes or hour upon hour,
They'll do it on stage or alone in the shower
And all in the name of love...

Because of their hunger for Love.
Sin and corruption are known to Tim Finister
Guilt and abasement and other things sinister
Buy your salvation from him, he's a minister:
--he sells his soul for Love

SW

