

Folk & Traditional Song Lyrics

www.traditionalmusic.co.uk

Every Humble Knee Must Bow

Every Humble Knee Must Bow
(Trad.)

E

There seems in a heaven a father

Once more and again

A

I'll be your handmaid servant

B7 E

Bowed down before thee

Put your loving arms all around me

Prop every leanin' side

B7 E

Every humble knee surely must bow,

A E B7

Surely must bow.

Hear this, heavenly father

Once more and again

I'll be your handmaid servant

Bowed down before thee

Put your loving arms all around me

Prop every leanin' side

Every humble knee surely must bow

Surely must bow.

I wouldn't bow for form or fashion

That side showed to the world

I'd bow down before you

According to your holy word

Put your loving arms all around me

Prop every leanin' side

Every humble knee surely must bow.

Well you said you'd be a mother

For the motherless

You said you'd be a father

For the fatherless too

You said if I would serve you
You'd be my father too
Put your loving arms all around me
Prop every leanin' side
Every humble knee surely must bow.

BJS