Gospel Changes

Gospel Changes

Prodigal Son, he'd been away awhile
He was working his way back home now over many a ragged mile
When he finally crossed the river & his father saw him near
There was a joyful sound for all the world to hear

I listened to what the Good Book said & it made good sense to me
Talking' 'bout reapin' what you're sowin', people trying to be free
Now we've got new names & faces, this time around
Gospel changes, Lord, still goin' down

Jesus, he did not doubt his gifts
Tho' he knew that he had not long to live
He took care of the business of teachin' us how to fly
Then he bowed his head & laid down to die

Jerusalem, I see you standing high
But if you lose your salvation there'll be no tears left to cry
Now some men worship a golden calf, while others are bought & sold
And if we live like that, brother we pay the toll
