Searching for Home

Searching for Home

Searching for home, always on the roam

Just let me travel alone

Searching for home, always on the roam

Just let me travel alone

Just let me travel alone

Just let me travel alone

Searching for home, always on the roam

Just let me travel alone

Your face is bright, shining in the night

Just let me travel alone

Your face is bright, shining in the night

Just let me travel alone

Just let me travel alone

Just let me travel alone

Your face is bright, shining in the night

Just let me travel alone

Searching for home, always on the roam

Just let me travel alone

Let us prepare to meet again somewhere

Just let me travel alone

Just let me travel alone

Just let me travel alone

Let us prepare to meet again somewhere

Just let me travel alone

(Originally a hymn; "somewhere" was "up there" and "in the night" was "in the Light") Learned from Ed Trickett's first record on
