Well the moon moved past Nebraska

Spilled laughter on them cold Dakota hills

The angels danced on Jacob's stairs, yeah they danced on Jacob's stairs

There is this silence in the badlands

And over Kansas the whole universe was stilled

By the whisper of a prayer, by the whisper of a prayer

And the single hawk bursts into flight

And in the east the whole horizon is in flames

And I feel the thunder in the sky, I see the sky about to rain

And I hear the prairies calling out Your name

I can feel the earth tremble beneath the rumbling of the buffalo hooves
And the fury in the pheasant's wings, there's fury in a pheasant's wings

And it tells me the Lord is in His temple

And there is still a faith that can make the mountains move

And a love that can make the heavens ring

And I've seen love make heaven ring

Where the sacred rivers meet beneath the shadow of the Keeper of the plains

I feel the thunder in the sky, I see the sky about to rain

And I hear the prairies calling out Your name

From the place where morning gathers

You can look sometimes forever 'til you see

What time may never know, what time may never know

How the Lord takes by its corners this whole world

And shakes us forward and shakes us free

To run wild with the hope, to run wild with the hope

The hope that this thirst will not last long

That it will soon drown in the song not sung in vain

And I feel the thunder in the sky, I see the sky about to rain

And I hear the prairies calling out Your name

And I know this thirst will not last long

That it will soon drown in the song not sung in vain

And I feel the thunder in the sky, I see the sky about to rain
And with the prairies I am calling out Your name
