

Over All

Georgie Snead, 1914.

Charles Gabriel.

Over all the shadows hover beams of light,
Over all the sadness shine the stars so bright,
Over all the evil Love is bending still,
Over all the chaos God's unchanging will.

Refrain

Over all, to watch and guard, and guide, and keep,
To behold and mark the sparrow's fall;
Over all, the eye of One who never sleeps
God's unchanging love is over all.

After all the sighing there is joy in store,
After all the dying life forevermore!
After all the doubting faith is shining clear,
Over all God whispers: "Peace, be of good cheer!"

Refrain

Over all the wrong things right triumphant reigns,
After all the striving strength the victor gains,
Over all the discord harmony we hear,
Just within the shadow God is standing near.
