

The Stars Are Brightly Shining
Margaret Ford, 1916.
Mrs. H. A. Farnsworth.

The stars are brightly shining,
Above a peaceful plain,
While shepherds watch and listen,
To hear a glad refrain.

Refrain

The angels sing the message,
"Good will on earth we bring;
The Prince of Peace we herald now,
Your Savior and your king."

The wise men, too, are watching
The star that shall arise!
In glorious beauty lighting
The midnight darkened skies.

Refrain

Thro' the whole world the summons
Comes from the sky to earth,
"Awake, and give your homage,
Proclaim the Savior's birth."
