from "The Lonesome Fugitive"

(Intro)

A D A A A E7 A A

(Verse 1)

A A7 D
I played a brand new record on the jukebox.

A E
I scarcely could believe the song I heard.

A A7 D
It told of how you left me for another.

A E7 A
It was almost like I'd written every word.

(Chorus)

A D A
Someone told my story in a song.

E
The lyrics told of happiness and home.

A D A
Then it told of how you done me wrong.

E7 A
Someone told my story in a song.

(Instrumental Break)

A D A A A E7 A A

(Verse 2)

A A7 D
The writer must have seen the way ya' done me,

A E
For he told it all and never missed a line.

A A7 D
He told of swinging doors and a jukebox.

A E7 A
And he even knew I almost lost my mind.

(Chorus)
